Jim helps clients negotiate and close purchase and sale and financing transactions in a wide range of industries.

Businesses have been relying on Jim for assistance with mergers, acquisitions and other corporate transactions for almost 40 years.

He frequently acts as outside general counsel for public as well as privately held companies and other entities. Jim also has extensive experience representing private equity firms and financial institutions in a wide range of secured and unsecured financing transactions.

In addition to facilitating mergers, acquisitions and divestitures, Jim is a trusted hand on other corporate transactions, including private equity investments, debt financings, and licensing agreements.

He also advises corporations, limited liability companies and partnerships on entity formation, capital raising and governance matters. Clients rely on Jim for a wide range of advice because he is known for collaborating effectively and efficiently with them as well as his colleagues in other areas – such as employment, real estate, securities and tax – getting clients the answers they need in order to move forward.
