From public REITs to small investor groups to high net worth individuals, Steve has been helping clients move forward with real estate for over three decades.

For over 30 years, Steve has been helping clients buy, sell, lease, finance, develop and conserve property.

A number of his major clients have been with him for more than 25 years, turning to him time and again for his ability to accurately assess risk and execute on critical projects.

Steve's effectiveness is driven by an ability to truly understand each client's objectives and align his negotiating approach accordingly. His clients include REITs, public and closely held companies, non-profit institutions, private investor groups, and high net worth individuals. Steve has extensive experience in the acquisition, sale, and leasing of office properties nationally, and the development and sale of senior living properties.

He also represents conservation organizations and individuals in the protection and conservation of significant properties in the region through the creative use of a variety of easements, restrictive covenants and other techniques.
